

BERNARD A. SCHLOSSER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW, P.C.

---

181 S. Bloomingdale Road
Suite 103
Bloomingdale, IL 60108
(630) 529-1740
FAX (630) 529-1715

July 5, 2013

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
Regional Office
77 W. Jackson Blvd.
Chicago, IL 60604-3507

Re: Exelon Generation of Braidwood, IL

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I represent the Chicago Beagle Club, Inc. a not-for-profit organization located in Godley, Illinois. My client owns land that is adjacent to properties occupied by the above entity. The above entity is involved in nuclear power activities wherein Com Ed provides nuclear power to Exelon.

The Chicago Beagle Club activities involve using their land to train Beagle dogs to track rabbits. Beagle tracking field trials are conducted on the land several times per year. Members of the Club frequent the land with their dogs for training. The presence of rabbits on the land is essential to these activities.

During the last few years the Club has experienced an unusual loss of rabbits found dead without any evidence of violence as a contributing factor. In other words they were not killed by the hands of predators.

Upon advice from scientists at some area Universities we are conducting research to determine whether the nuclear activities of the aforesaid entity is causing or contributing to the loss of rabbits. We have been advised that such a cause is probable.

A few years ago Com Ed, which supplies nuclear energy to Exelon, urged all area residents to convert from well water to city provided water, which was accomplished.

As a result of the foregoing we are requesting under the terms of the Freedom of Information Act, that you provide my office with the environmental studies conducted at the sites of the above entity and a history of any legal or administrative actions taken against the entity due to damages caused by their activities particularly to land or wildlife.

Please contact me with any questions or requests.

Very Truly Yours,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "B. Schlosser", with a stylized, flowing script.

Bernard A. Schlosser,
Attorney at Law

BAS/cs